EXCURSION POSSIBILITIES

Medieval Valencia (must be pre-booked) – Valencia was founded by the Romans in 138 BC and has been one of Spain's major cities ever since, displaying impressive examples of architecture from many periods. A centre of Moorish civilisation for almost 400 years it is the capital of the province of Valencia. It is also the birthplace of paella, Spain's citrus fruit capital, and home to its own distinct dialect of the Spanish language, Valenciano.

Guadalest & The Aitana Mountains – Drive into the spectacular Aitana mountain range to enjoy a panoply of beautiful vistas and visit the enchanting Moorish citadel of Guadalest. Formerly the capital of a small independent Moorish kingdom, Guadalest is dramatically located on the crest of a precipitous rocky outcrop within a high mountain valley.

Altea – Enjoy time at leisure in one of the most picturesque coastal villages in the Costa Blanca. Dating back to Roman times, this formerly sleepy fishing community was uplifted, restored and beautified by a colony of artists in the 1950s. Wander its many attractive streets, while away time in its tree-shaded squares or explore its many chic boutiques.
